

The Global Leader in Professional Career Transition

"Where your search ends...and ours begins!"

"Fill the position fast, with the right person, the first time!"

This is happening in almost every business and more than likely within your business too! You have an opening in your company that you need filled as quickly as possible; you collect a pile of resumes from potential candidates, most without the necessary skill sets, all looking for employment opportunities. This combined with the stress of trying to fill the position and doing your own work, takes a toll on both your staff and your bottom line. It takes more time than you have available to carefully select and engage in the hiring process to produce the results needed. You have a few options...you could wait, continuing your search for the right candidate while wasting time and money, or you could hope for the best and likely hire the wrong person. Both options put you in a position where you could have to start the process all over again. This is especially costly for Staffing & Recruiting Agencies; you hire an employee, they develop a relationship with your clients, get to know the prospective worker base and then you have to let them go and start over.

OR

You could skip past all of these options and allow GRN of Alpharetta to find the optimum match possible for your organization. Benefit from our years of experience, training and our extensive network - while allowing you to get back to what earns you money.

"We are committed to the highest standards of ethical business and value our relationships with both our candidates and our clients above all else." -Roy Mick

"You've posted your resume online...now what?"

You are highly skilled and are looking for a new challenge, maybe even a new location. You've posted your resume online, searched job boards in the desired area, your inbox is flooded with offers from businesses that aren't even remotely related to your industry, with compensation offers that you wouldn't have considered years ago. You sort through the offers, research the companies and agree to some interviews. This takes time and most likely will not produce the results you need. You have a few options; you could wait, hoping for the right offer to come along or you could accept one of the offers and end up leaving and having to start all over again. You know you are a professional, excellent at developing relationships and have a sixth sense when it comes to matching prospective client and candidate needs. Why waste your time getting involved with a Staffing or Recruiting Agency that is not an optimum fit for you?

OR

You could skip past these options, save some time and let GRN of Alpharetta help find the right match for your skill sets, personality and culture where you can thrive!

"We are Global Recruiters of Alpharetta; we are not just another recruiting agency. We specialize in talent acquisition of candidates with a history of exceptional performance in filling the most challenging and most difficult positions to keep filled within staffing and recruiting agencies."

Global Recruiters of Alpharetta is the solution!

Our company was created to bring quality service, integrity and strong personal relationships to the forefront of staffing. We take the time to listen – really listen. We hear, understand and define your specific staffing needs, with consideration given to personality and culture, to increase the efficiencies and integrity of the search process to produce the results and solutions that you both expect and deserve. Finding the optimum match possible in every aspect between an organization and a candidate is our highest priority. We focus on identifying and attracting the right Staffing professional for your agency. As our economy evolves, companies are moving away from the traditional hiring process that can take weeks or months to recruit, interview etc. This is where our expertise and training creates hiring efficiencies and eliminates mistakes in hiring.

The GRN of Alpharetta Advantage

Our customized state-of-the-art recruiting software, coupled with our top-rated successful executive support team, continued training, and true personal service positions GRN of Alpharetta as the "Global Leader in Professional Career Transition." We engage in proven and successful recruiting methodologies, bringing over 120 years of combined staffing experience to the table. This enables us to cohesively partner with you throughout our relationship.

GRN of Alpharetta leads the industry by creating the search industry's first desktop-driven, recruiter-to-recruiter chat, Assignment and Candidate Exchange System. It is the only program that allows search consultants to instantly exchange qualified job assignments and candidates with each other. We can generate ideal candidates quickly, efficiently and effectively, candidates who in most cases are not actively seeking new employment. Our system and process brings a higher caliber of potential talent to your organization. This opens up a different level of potential talent for your organization. We work closely with candidates and organizations, screening thoroughly to create an optimum fit between needs and skill sets. All candidates are "A" rated, pre-qualified, and reference-checked. The GRN of Alpharetta Interactive Network – our very own video conferencing technology – allows face-to-face interviews between organizations and candidates who may be thousands of miles away from each other, or one-on-one meetings with your search team. This interactive tool enables people from all over the globe to work cohesively, increasing the speed and efficiency of the search process.

Trust Experience

GRN of Alpharetta's founder, Roy Mick, has over 20 years of staffing agency experience and was instrumental in building an international staffing agency from its infancy. Let his experience along with his team of professionals work for you! GRN of Alpharetta specializes in talent acquisition for internal positions within Staffing and Recruiting Agencies. We focus on providing carefully selected professionals for all levels of your staffing agency's needs. Staffing and Recruiting Agency professionals are unique – they are the people who make it all happen. Staffing and Recruiting Agencies match millions of people to millions of jobs every day. According to the American Staffing Association, 59% of businesses with over 25 employees use Staffing and Recruiting Agencies to hire talented employees. Your clients depend on your agency to have experienced, qualified and results oriented staff to exceed their own ability to staff their organization.
